

Brad Miller

Chief Executive Officer & Head of Legal

ComplyAuto

Professional Summary

Brad Miller serves as Chief Executive Officer and Head of Legal at ComplyAuto, the nation's leading compliance software provider to automotive dealers. With over 25 years of distinguished legal and dealership compliance experience, Mr. Miller brings exceptional expertise in regulatory matters, industry advocacy, and legal counsel to his leadership role at ComplyAuto.

Professional Experience

ComplyAuto

Chief Executive Officer & Head of Legal (Current)

Chief Legal Officer (2024-2025)

Mr. Miller has been instrumental in ComplyAuto's continued growth and market leadership in the automotive compliance software sector, leveraging his extensive regulatory knowledge to guide strategic initiatives and legal operations.

National Automobile Dealers Association (NADA)

Chief Regulatory Counsel During his 16+ year tenure at NADA, Mr. Miller held various positions of increasing responsibility, culminating in his role as Chief Regulatory Counsel. In this capacity, he:

- Represented dealer interests before numerous federal agencies
- Provided comprehensive regulatory education and guidance to automotive dealers nationwide
- Developed expertise in complex federal regulatory frameworks affecting the automotive retail industry

Private Practice

Attorney - WilmerHale and Cooley LLP, Washington, DC

Mr. Miller began his legal career in private practice at two prestigious law firms in Washington, DC, where he gained significant litigation experience and developed foundational expertise in regulatory and corporate law.

Education

Tulane University Law School - Juris Doctor

Summa Cum Laude, Second in Class

Washington and Lee University - Bachelor's Degree

Areas of Expertise

Mr. Miller is recognized as a leading industry authority on federal regulatory issues affecting automotive dealers, with particular expertise in:

- Data privacy regulations and compliance frameworks
- Cybersecurity regulations and best practices
- Federal agency relations and regulatory advocacy
- Automotive industry compliance and risk management

Industry Recognition

Mr. Miller is widely regarded as one of the foremost authorities on data privacy and cybersecurity regulations within the automotive retail sector, frequently consulted for his expertise in navigating complex regulatory environments.

